DETAILED ACTION

The Appeal Brief filed 20 December 2005 and the subsequent Reply Briefs of 9 May 2006 and 13 December 2006 are hereby dismissed in view of the following new ground of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3-7 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Newton et al (US 2,880,191), newly cited.

The reference to Newton et al shows the manufacture of silicon reinforced rubber composition, as recited herein, that may include "(1) a rubbery polymer," including styrene-butadiene (claim 15) at column 5 (lines 16-60), "(2) an elongated silica wherein the elongated silica has a width that is within the range of about 5 nm to about 40 nm and wherein the elongated silica has a length of about 40 nm to about 300 nm" at column 2 (lines 16-31 and 45 et seq.) and "(3) optionally, at least one conventional rubber compounding ingredient selected from the group consisting of carbon black, sulfur, fillers, accelerants, oils, waxes, scorch inhibiting agents, and processing aids," at the paragraph bridging column 5 to column 6. The "elongated silica is present at a level which is within the range of about 20 phr to about 70 phr (claim 3)," is "within the range of about 30 phr to about 60 phr (claim 4)" and is "within the range of about 35 phr to about 55 phr (claim 5)" at column 5 (lines 61-69) wherein the claim 3 range is embraced and the claims 4 and 5 ranges are overlapped by the reference teachings. The reference teaches an elongated silica that "has a length of about 70 nm to about 120 nm (claim 6)" and "a length of about 80 nm to about 100 nm (claim 7)" at column 2 (lines 16-31).

Due to the new grounds of rejection, this action is not being made FINAL.
